Delivering Digital Services David McMenemy, Alan Poulter, 2005 Lifelong learning is currently a major concern of governments who wish to see their citizens remain employable while the job market changes. Critical to this are digital learning centres where learning is delivered through internet access or via CD-based packages. Access to these turns public libraries and community networks into 'multi media neighbourhood superstores' where print-based learning materials are enhanced by multimedia. The multiplicity of sources of learning materials and experiences reinforces and extends the traditional role of the librarian as mediator between the user and their needs. To support and foster these activities frontline public library and community network staff must be capable of offering user support and advice in a much wider arena. This requires training in new knowledge and skill sets. This timely new book offers practical guidance and expertise for public library and community network staff in setting up, running and developing an effective digital learning centre based within the People's Network or in a related community networking initiative. It has a holistic focus on the use of ICT, taking staff beyond user training applications into areas of network management, e-learning, digitization, web design and XML that staff face on a day-to-day basis. Key areas covered include: PC installation and maintenance managing a network and coping with the security issues of internet connection understanding and supporting lifelong learning digitization of local materials managing websites and intranets: site design, metadata, XML building local community portals implementing e-government social inclusion and service extension: assistive technologies service issues: copyright, access user and staff training. Readership: This book will de-mystify this new area of development for all library and information staff working in, or setting up, a PC-based digital learning centre in information service settings within public libraries, community networking centres, and school and academic libraries.

Secrets of Seduction: The Powerful Influence of Behavioral Psychology Applied to Seduction and Persuasion Paulo Roberto de Sá Araújo, 2021-10-02 Recent surveys reveal that about 84% of men feel insecure in flirting situations: whether due to lack of courage, fear of judgment, feeling intimidated by the beauty of women, not knowing what to say or even because of an ingrained shyness. This is because these men do not understand the psychological aspects and mental triggers that are behind any human interaction. In my teens, I was very shy and embarrassed to talk to women who piqued my interest, until I discovered that seduction and conquest skills could be learned and I could really become a skilled seducer if I learned the right techniques. After studying human behavior a lot and even graduating from courses on influence and persuasion, I became an expert in communication and finally understood how some men conquer women so easily, as if they were true magnets and attracted them to themselves with very little effort. Thinking about helping other men to overcome these difficulties I wrote the book "Secrets of Seduction", where I teach all the powerful techniques of influence, persuasion, NLP and seduction that really changed my life. I literally reveal all the secrets you've never been told about relating to women. In it, I teach practical strategies from basic to advanced to overcome any mental block, gain self-confidence, interpret signals of interest and, just by looking, know exactly who are the women who are interested in you. I also approach the best communication techniques with an almost hypnotic power to create connections, which helped me not only in the seduction aspect but also in several areas of my life. I hope this book adds the same value to you as it did to me.
